

INSURGENTS GOT BOOTY

Details of the Rebel Raid on Havana's Suburbs.

New York, August 1.—The Herald's Havana cable says: The details of the attack on Havana's suburbs, which were suppressed by the Spanish officials Thursday after the attack have now become public. A band of 300 insurgents, under Colonels Delgado and Acosta, entered Marinao, a suburb of Havana, Wednesday night. They killed one Spanish officer and five soldiers, wounded several others, macheted the mayor of the town, pillaged and burned six stores, carried away goods to the value of $15,000, and during the four hours they were in the town lost not a single man. Spanish officers who should have been on duty there, were spending the evening in Havana. They are to be court martialed.

The rebels had been camped for several days at Punta Brava. Their plans were all well laid. They knew the Spanish officers at Marinao were going to Havana, and they had learned the password. In the darkness they came boldly down the main road and divided into small groups. At the first fort they received a challenge, answered and passed on, but at the second fort they were fired on. The rebels did not stop to answer, but rushed into the town. Once past the forts they met with no resistance. For four hours they held possession of the town and did as they pleased. Eventually the news of the rebels attack was sent to Havana and two companies of the Pizarro battalion marched to the scene. When they arrived the rebels had retired, laden with spoils. Every officer who was not at his post Wednesday night will be court martialed.

RODE A WIRE.

Fancy Bike Performer Killed During An Exhibition In Brooklyn.

New York, Aug. 1.—A man known as Prof. Arier, but whose real name is supposed to be McDonald, was killed at Ridgewood Park, Brooklyn, tonight. As a part of the entertainment which was being held at a Hessian fete the professor was advertised to ride a bicycle on a wire strung about seventy-five feet from the ground. While half way across the wire the professor lost one of his pedals, causing the bicycle to topple over. The bicyclist fell to the ground, bringing with him an electric light wire which he carried with him for the purpose of giving an electrical display. In the fall he fractured several ribs and sustained internal injuries. He died soon after his removal to the hospital.

OUR COMMERCE FETTERED BY LAW.

By the Right Hon. Geo. H. Reid, Premier of New South Wales.

New York Herald.

"When the commerce of the United States is as free as its institutions, then America will quickly become the center of Anglo-Saxon commercial supremacy. There is no magic in England's supremacy in commerce. It is the result of her freedom in commerce. With the inventiveness of your people and your power of labor, nothing could stop you after the fetters were removed from your commerce. As long as you keep it shackled it will be all the better for the old country, and Englishmen can well wish that you would keep Mr. McKinley's in vogue for twenty years."

CARGO OF AMMUNITION.

More Guns and Powder Reported To Have Been Sent To Cuba.

Wilmington, N. C.

It is reported here that a cargo of arms and ammunition for the Cuban insurgents was transferred from a small sailing vessel to a steamer (both unknown) off Topsail Island, some fifteen or twenty miles from Wilmington, Wednesday night, the 28th inst. Nothing further could be learned here about the matter.

STORY OF

"OLD HOSS" HOEY.

Frank Pixley in Chicago Times-Herald.

Friends of the late "Old Hoss" Hoey at least have the satisfaction, melancholy though it may be, of knowing that the end came suddenly. Paresis is not always so kind to its victims. William J. Scanlan, the Irish comedian, who was one of the finest singers the American stage ever produced, has for several years been condemned to a living death with that dread disease, and his case, even from the first, has had not the slightest glimmer of hope. Scanlan and Hoey were warm personal friends, and since the latter's death it is recalled that on one occasion several years ago he startled Broadway one afternoon by wearing a band of crape on his arm and telling his theatrical acquaintances that Scanlan was dead. When Scanlan heard of this, as he did within an hour, he was very much astonished and furiously angry. He lost no time in finding Hoey and demanding an explanation. "Well," said "Old Hoss," dryly, "when you borrowed that fifty of me last week you said you would pay it back Thursday if you were alive. I hadn't seen you since then, and today is Saturday."

FELL ON A KNIFE.

Fatal Accident to a Young Man About to Open a Melon.

Stephenville, Erath Co., Tex., July 31.—Mr. Garland Dunn, a young man of Scurry county, with others, passed here today, homeward bound. About four miles from here the crowd stopped to eat a melon. The young man got a butcher knife and stepped out of the wagon on the double tree. His foot slipped and he fell, striking the knife about four inches deep under his left arm. Medical attention was quickly obtained, but the young man died at 1 p. m. He was returning from a visit to relatives near Italy, Ellis county.

BLOOD POISON

HAVE YOU... Dr. Miles' Nervine Restores Health.

W. H. PALMER,

WATERLOO, IOWA.

"Saved From the Horrors of Nervous Prostration" by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

A COUGH does not always indicate consumption. Mr. W. H. Palmer, of Waterloo, Iowa, writes: "I was taken with a nervous stricture of the bronchial tubes, which developed into nervous prostration. I was so weak I could not sit up. I got no sleep for days except when under the influence of opiates. For four months I suffered agonies and prayed that I might die and be at rest. One physician said I had consumption, for I had a cough that gave me no rest. But a good old physician whose medicine had failed, advised me to use Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and I thank God that it has brightened my days, lengthened my life and saved me from the horrors of nervous prostration." Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee. First bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on Heart and Nerves sent free to all applicants. DR.
